Gentlemen: It is a pleasure to add my voice to those of millions of other Americans who are appalled at some of the steps being taken to harass a company that demonstrated to the entire world the advantages of our capitalistic system. Because of our system which rewards those who are innovative hard working and display leadership Microsoft Corporation has emerged as one of the leading companies not only in the United States but in the entire world. They have attained their position by innovative merchandising and superior products which they continue to update and improve while keeping their prices on a downward course. In addition Microsoft has created features which have facilitated the use of technical products especially among those who find it difficult to integrate these features when offered separately. What more can our system ask of a company than to provide continually improving products that are on the cutting edge of technology at lower and lower prices and thereby increasing productivity and the well being of all our citizens. Those companies that were unable to compete in the market place because their products were less suitable and their merchandising less satisfactory were unsuccessful and companies such as Borland Novell Netscape and Word Perfect were in fact voted out by the American Why then at taxpayer expense are actions taken on behalf of other private companies such consumer. as those noted above and such companies as Sun Oracle and AOL to divert Microsoft from its mission of providing the best and most advanced technology to American business and consumers at ever lower prices? If these companies would devote their energie
